HUGE CRAFT MAKES ITS FAREWELL VOYAGE

Noisy Goodbye by Germany To Vessel Built for United States Navy

BULLETIN

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Sept. 26.—The giant Zeppelin ZR-3, built for the United States navy, landed at 5:25 o'clock this afternoon, after completing a successful trial flight across Germany.

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—Germany's greatest dirigible, the ZR-3, nearing the end of its farewell trip over the fatherland before its delivery to America in part payment of the penalties imposed by the Versailles treaty, reached Berlin shortly before 10 o'clock today. A frenzy of enthusiasm greeted the giant sky cruiser.

The ZR-3 followed the historic street Unter Den Lenden, described a circle over the imperial castle, headed toward Straaken, and returned to describe a giant circle around the whole city.

Craft Sails Low

The big ship came so low in its flight over the city that windows shook from the vibration of its motors.

Though familiar with the Zeppelin appearance by war time experience, Berlin residents on early morning trains, in motor cars and on bicycles, streamed toward the aerodrome at Straaken, the training site of some of the most famous pilots of the war.

Noisy Welcome

From windows in business buildings, house tops and from the boulevards, the city waved and cheered while hoarse throated factory whistles gave a siren of welcome.

Word of the ZR-3's progress over north Germany since its departure from Friederichshafen at 9 o'clock yesterday had stirred Berlin to keen anticipation long before the arrival of the traveler.

The morning newspapers heralded the Zeppelin's arrival and terms of the treaty which makes the dirigible the last Germany can produce.

"Last German Zeppelin's Triumphal Flight," one headline read. The text followed pointed out to all Germany the proud achievement of the ZR-3's crew.

The farewell flight was discussed as a national affair. The allies were bitterly assailed, in editorial comment, for depriving Germany of chances for further progress in aircraft construction. Under the Versailles treaty, the Zeppelin plant which produced the ZR-3, will be torn down after the dirigible makes its departure for America, probably the latter part of next week.

Writs of Mandamus In Election Are Sought

SEATTLE, Sept. 26.—Launching a triple legal attack against political groups alleged to be unlawfully appropriating the prerogatives of the recognized La Follette-Wheeler organization, Edgar C. Snyder, secretary of the Progressive party, presented three petitions to the state supreme court at Olympia today calling for as many writs of mandamus against J. Grant Hinkle, secretary of state. Snyder asks the court to compel Hinkle to certify to the county election boards the names of the true La Follette-Wheeler electors only and thus prevent fraudulent lists of electors from getting on the ballot on November 4.

BURGLARS FOILED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Sighting a sack bearing the figures $1000 in a bank window here today, burglars threw a brick through a large plate glass window, removed the sack, and found it was stuffed with paper. The men escaped police who were rushed to the bank.

SERIES OF HOLDUPS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Automobile bandits robbed six persons here today in a series of daring holdups and escaped with $500.

Gets Extension on Life Because Name Is Way Down List

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Because his name begins with the letter S, Joseph Sinuel will not die on the gallows at Folsom prison with Robert Mathews December 12, Judge Arthur Keelch ruled here today. Instead, Sinuel will be hanged December 19.

Sinuel and Mathews, acgroes, convicted of murder, were sentenced to be hanged today and, in fixing the dates of their execution, Judge Keelch resorted to the alphabet, ruling Mathews must die first.

There is only one gallows at Folsom, and the pair, convicted of killing Coleman Stone, a grocer, here in 1923, could not be hanged together.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF NEW YORK AGAIN SELECTS AL SMITH

Rousing Reception Follows Nomination of Leader For Governorship

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Amid thunderous applause and enthusiasm that swept the big drill shed, Governor Alfred E. Smith was renominated by the Democratic state convention here this afternoon.

With the possible exception of the applause he received when he appeared on the platform at the Democratic national convention in New York last June, the governor never before was accorded such a rousing reception as that which followed his renomination.

Flyers Rest as Ships Overhauled at Field

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The American 'round-the-world flyers were resting here today while mechanics at Crissy field took charge of their planes, putting them in condition for the hop tomorrow to Eugene, Ore., some 600 miles. Work of installing a new engine in Lieutenant Leigh T. Wade's big ship, the Boston II, which was forced to land in South San Francisco when his battery went dead while but a few miles from Crissy field, was being rushed. A purse which is expected to total more than $10,000 is to be presented to the aeronauts upon their return from Seattle.

As a crowning event to the Oregon state fair a special stop on their way northward to Seattle will be made by the 'round-the-world airmen at the fair grounds at Salem on Saturday.

TOKIO, Sept. 26.—The Hochi, a Japanese newspaper, quoted a high government official today that steps were being taken to intervene in China should war spread and jeopardize Japanese interests. Simultaneously with these developments, the Japanese government is withholding its commitment to the League of Nations arbitration scheme, the semi-official press stating the scheme would tie Japanese hands with regard to China.

Labor Body May Pick San Diego for 1925

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 26.—Selection of San Diego as the 1925 convention city of the California State Federation of Labor was expected to be announced here today at the meeting. Election of Roe Baker of San Francisco as president of the organization was the chief factor seen in the probable selection of the Southern California city, as a sectional row that at times threatened to become bitter was precipitated during the election of officers.

VETERANS IN DRIVE FOR COOLIDGE

Former Service Men Start Fight Against La Follette Through Northwest

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 26.—After canvassing the situation in Spokane as well as Tacoma and the western section of the state of Washington, the conclusion seems inescapable that President Coolidge has a hard fight ahead to win the electoral vote here from Senator La Follette.

Few states present as interesting a mixup as the state of Washington. It's a situation full of possibilities between now and election, for things are being done here which are very different from those one encounters in other states.

In the first place, ex-service men who number about 50,000, of whom about 8000 are American Legion members, are being organized for a state-wide drive against Senator La Follette and Senator Wheeler on account of their war record.

Plan of Campaign

Precinct organizations are being planned from which much is expected. The Republican state committee says it is not connected with the undertaking. But it is no exaggeration to say that no political organization of such proportions has ever been developed on the Pacific coast.

The tactics of the service men are in a sense non-partisan. The drive is primarily for President Coolidge, but if any Democrats or other ex-service men are encountered, who perhaps do not care to vote for Mr. Coolidge because he vetoed the bonus, they are strongly urged then to vote for John W. Davis. La Follette and Wheeler are the targets of the attack. Copies of some of the literature sent out by the Iowa members of the American Legion are being circulated here in large quanti-

Corruption Report Is Given Justice Agents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—President Coolidge has turned over to Attorney-General Stone and the department of justice the allegations made by William R. Nicholson, jr., secretary of the law enforcement league in Philadelphia, to the effect he has "data charging widespread corruption all down the line in Pennsylvania by federal officeholders." Nicholson's allegations were made in connection with the threatened ousting of Brigadier-General Smedley Butler as director of safety in Philadelphia and his appeal to President Coolidge to stop it.

Murphy Comedians May Yet Receive Council's Permit

A special meeting of the City Council has been called for 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, to reconsider the application of J. B. Brown & Co. for a permit to conduct the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians on the property of L. H. Wilson on Los Angeles street near South San Fernando road, during the time their $250,000 permanent theatre is being constructed on the site they own at the northeast corner of Cenral avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo.

At the regular council meeting yesterday, C. C. Pitts of J. B. Brown & Co., applied for a ninety-day permit to conduct the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians at this location, the application being voted down 3 to 2. Councilmen S. A. Davis and S. S. Gilhuly, who voted in favor of granting the permit, and Mayor Spencer Robinson, who voted against it, combined this morning to constitute the majority of the council necessary to call a special meeting.

Called By Majority

Mayor Robinson could have called the meeting himself, had he so desired, but he stated that he preferred to join with Councilmen Davis and Gilhuly in calling the meeting by majority action.

The meeting was called following a conference with W. H. Lee of J. B. Brown & Co. in the office of Virgil B. Stone, city manager. There were present all the councilmen but C. E. Kimlin.

Councilman Davis stated after the conference that the site on which it is proposed to locate the tent theatre is outside the fire zone in an industrial district, and there is nothing in the existing ordinance covering such matters against issuing a permit that will allow Murphy's Comedians to hold their shows there until they can build their permanent home in Casa Verdugo.

Should Grant Permit

"The ordinance is explicit on the subject," said Councilman Davis. "The only grounds for refusing a permit at that location or for rescinding a permit already granted, would be either immorality or violation of the police regulations. It therefore seems to me the Glendale City Council has no alternative but to grant this permit. I believe in a policy of live and let live."

"Let the people of Glendale come up to the council chambers tomorrow morning and say whether or not they want Murphy's Comedians in Glendale," said Mayor Robinson. "My only aim is to give the people what they want."

"Murphy's Comedians said when they first came here that they would build a permanent theatre if allowed to operate temporarily as a tent show," said Councilman Gilhuly. "They have made good, in spite of strenuous opposition. They are game fighters with a clean proposition and I admire them and am for them."

Peking Government Seeks To Involve Japan, Is Claimed

PEKING, Sept. 26.—Because of the insistence of General Wu Pei Fu that his expeditionary troops against Chang Tso Lin be permitted to use the South Manchurian railway, the Japanese minister today wired the Japanese government at Tokio for instructions.

Wu Pei Fu promised to pay half fare for the soldiers carried, but firmly demanded the use of the Japanese railway, thereby preventing Chang Tso Lin from advancing the claim that the railroad was under Japanese protection.

Seeks Attitude

TOKIO, Sept. 26.—That Wu Pei Fu, military head of the Peking government, is attempting to embarrass Japan by implying Japanese connection with Chang Tso Lin, was the unofficial opinion expressed in foreign office circles tonight, following news that Wo had demanded use of the south Manchuria railway for troop movements.

Minister Yoshizawa at Peking, following a conference with Wu, was reported to have cabled here asking the Japanese attitude of Wu's use of the railroad "after Chang evacuates Mukden."

This hypothetical question was regarded here as an attempt to fasten suspicion on Japan, but is of utmost importance, as Manchuria is the center now of international interest.

The foreign office refused to state whether the cable had been received.

New Complications

SHANGHAI, Sept. 26—A three-cornered struggle for the control of Chekiang loomed today to further complicate the civil strife centering around Shanghai.

Sun Shuan Fang of Fukien province, arrived today at Hangchow and is proceeding to Kashing, where, it is believed, he will open an attack on Lu Yung Hsiang from the south.

Despite Sun's appointment by Peking to succeed Lu in Chekiang, the two main Kaingsu leaders who have carried the brunt of the warfare against Lu are expected to dispute his claims to leadership, thus precipitating a three-handed battle for supremacy.

The expected Kiangsu attack which desultory firing had indicated was about to begin, failed to materialize. Little fighting was reported on the Huang Tu Liuho battle line.

LA FOLLETTE TO APPEAR IN STATE

Candidate Plans to Make Personal Tour at Head Of 'Speaking Army'

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The big guns of the Progressive party will be unlimbered all over the country next week for a month of intensive campaigning that will extend to election day, it was announced today at La Follette-Wheeler headquarters.

Senator La Follette himself will take the stump for a nation-wide swing, not later than October 6. He will be followed on the road immediately by an army of more than 600 speakers, David K. Niles, chief of the Progressives' speakers' bureau, declared.

From Coast to Coast

Having made only three speeches since the announcement of his candidacy, La Follette, his friends said, is anxious to begin at once his tour from coast to coast, speaking practically every day until election.

La Follette's itinerary has been virtually completed. It calls for an invasion of New England first.

If his managers' wishes prevail, La Follette will not make more than one speech a day on the trip. The senator has told friends, however, that once on the road he wanted "to speak every day and three or four times a day, too."

Gathers Material

La Follette will journey to the coast from Chicago by the northern route, swing south down the Pacific and return to the middle west through Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

For weeks La Follette has been gathering material for his addresses. Speeches for the first two weeks are now virtually completed, it was said.

In the east La Follette will stress labor policies; in the middle west farm relief and repeal of the Esch-Cummins rail law; on the Pacific coast his proposal granting power to Congress by a two-thirds vote to override decisions of the supreme court.

Court Decision

La Follette feels that the court issue will strike a great appeal in the far west, and all over the country, because of the decision of the California supreme court denying Progressive electors a place on the state ballot. La Follette-Wheeler electors now must run under the Socialist party label in California.

By the California decision, La Follette said, "the will of the people has been thwarted."

Funds are available to the extent of $450,000 and the contractor is ready to proceed with the work. Any residue from the appropriation will be used in making the Verdugo wash more serviceable in handling the great floodwaters, it was stated. Material savings are expected to be made through the new plan.

TEAMS GIVE FINANCIAL REPORTS

Balance of $51,650 Must Be Raised to Close Building Campaign

An additional $7,554 in subscriptions to the $275,000 Y. M. C. A. building fund was reported at last night's dinner meeting of the workers, held at the Glendale Presbyterian church. This leaves a balance of $51,650 to be raised before November 1, to make all subscriptions binding.

Inasmuch as the workers have personally pledged themselves to complete this drive to the last dollar, and are determined to secure the greater portion of the balance needed before the end of September, another dinner meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church at 6:30 o'clcok next Monday night, September 29, it was announced by George B. McDill, general chairman of the executive committee, at the close of last night's session.

Submit Reports

The executive committee reported the largest total for the last two days, the round sum of $2500 being their latest contribution to the Y. fund. The "Go-Getters," managed by H. Park Arnold, reported the second highest figure, $1789 being chalked up to their credit. Manager J. A. Newton's "Live Y-ers" came third, with $1475. Next came the "TNT Gang" of Lyman P. Clark, with $650; then the "Helpmates," Mrs. Dan Campbell's brigade, with $570, and last, but not least enthusiastic, the "Bear Cats" of C. W. Ingledue with $550.

As the "Bear Cats" had won first divisional honors for the drive proper, which terminated Wednesday, annexing a total of $59,212.50, they could afford to rest on their laurels.

The "Spizzerinctum" board was resplendent with eight gold stars, awarded the following workers for obtaining $5000 or over each: H. Park Arnold, George H. Bentley, Frank L. Fox, Peter Hanson, C. W. Ingledue, Roy L. Kent, George D. McDill and J. A. Newton.

Mr. McDill offered the workers their choice of a selected list of prospects, reading the names and allowing them to call out the ones they wanted. In this way it is believed that the logical man has been obtained to approach a number of hitherto unsolicited and partially solicited prospects.

Some of the reasons why they "came across" for the $275,000 Y. M. C. A. building Glendale is soon to have, as told last night by workers, at the dinner given in the Glendale Presbyterian church, under the direction of George B. McDill, general chairman:

"I was wondering why you folks hadn't asked me before," said one man, subscribing $100.

"I just got back from the Pasadena Y," said another. "Here's my contribution. We want one in Glendale."

"One man who had subscribed $25 raised it to $500 when he found that was the amount they had him down for on the card. "For," said he, "they evidently know what my just share should be."

POLICE TO MEET

A meeting of all members of the Glendale police department has been called for 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, September 29, by Chief John D. Fraser. The meeting will be held at the city hall, and will be for the purpose of assigning new posts. These meetings are held regularly once a month.

Former Resident of Iowa Is First to Make Subscription

John Gardner of 231 Milford street was the first man to take a subscription through The Glendale Evening News for the Y. M. C. A. building fund. Mr. Gardner came from Iowa about a half dozen years ago, and—leave it to men who have lived in Iowa to be ready to favor everything for the betterment of a community.

INGLEDUE SENDS REPLY TO LETTER

Answers Statement Made by H. M. Butts Regarding Civic Center Plan

C. W. Ingledue, president of the Glendale Advancement association, today requested The Glendale Evening News to publish the following letter addressed to H. M. Butts:

Dear Sir—Referring to your letter which was addressed to me yesterday at the Glendale Advancement association, wish to state that I had intended answering this in a quite business-like manner, but since you have seen fit to deliver a copy of same to a newspaper to be used in a public manner, I make bold to answer you in this public fashion.

You begin your message by making the statement that you are a business man and a greater Glendale citizen. I am not boastful, but I am willing to list my record both as a business man and a greater Glendale citizen to the judgment of my friends and yours in Glendale. I am a great believer in schools, churches, Y. M. C. A.'s and other institutions which contribute so materially to the fine social atmosphere of Glendale and contribute to the best of my ability to their support.

No Sectionalism

I am also the head of an organization which is lending its influence to its utmost for the advancement of all of Glendale.

This organization, I am glad to state to you, has gone on record as being unqualifiedly against the wasteful use of taxpayers' money in the purchase of the Harvard Street High school property to be used as a civic center, and I want to assure you that this action was taken without any feeling of selfishness or sectionalism.

You speak of our being associated together in preventing the purchase of Brand boulevard frontage to be used in connection with the whole High school site and located our present High school on the new site at Broadway and Verdugo road.

Harmony Lacking

If you will remember one other main argument that influenced me in that campaign was the fact that the buildings used at that time for High school purposes were obsolete in their design, were entirely different from any buildings that we would want to build upon the site and that the whole proposition could not be added to so as to make a harmonious and symmetrical appearance. I want to say now that that same argument influences many in the decision to vote against it. I will use my influence against the voting of this proposition upon the people of Glendale. The buildings that you propose to use for the transaction of the city's business are, to say the least very poor class C construction, and could never be made safe for the protection of the city's valuable maps and records against fire or theft, because of the fact there could be no vaults or other devices installed for this protection any more than they are at present.

Besides these buildings being outlandish architecture, different from anything that the city would want to build on the grounds used, they are absolutely unsafe and could never by the expenditure of any amount of money be made to adequately serve the city as a city hall.

Any builder will tell you that a building erected for any certain purpose can never be economically altered to serve an entirely different purpose.

Buildings Obsolete

I personally believe, and it is in accordance with resolutions passed by our organization, that a great crime will be perpetrated upon the taxpayers of Glendale if, because of undue influence or misrepresentations, the voters of Glendale agree to squander their money in the purchase of these obsolete and hideous buildngs because it will be impossible to ever make of them or of the entire property a civic center to which we can point with pride.

I am sorry, sir, because of our association in the past, I cannot agree to co-operate with you and your friends in this extravagant waste of the people's money.

Thanking you for the courtesy of addressing me as you have, I remain

Yours truly,
C. W. INGLEDUE,
President of the Glendale Advancement Association.

ASSOCIATION PLANS FOR ACTIVITY

Columbus P.-T. A. Prepares To Take Big Part In Work for School

An inspiring spirit of harmony and earnest endeavor dominated the first fall meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at the school. Mrs. C. H. Bird heads this association for the coming year, and through her enthusiasm eighty-seven patrons and teachers were in attendance yesterday and pledged themselves to secure a 100 per cent membership before the year is over.

In greeting the company Mrs. Bird gave a clever interpretation of the title, Parent-Teacher association, saying "Parents stand for patience, teachers stand for tolerance and association stands for affection for one another."

Outline Program

In response to this the association members paid tribute to Mrs. Bird, president, and Mrs. C. H. Lyons, vice-president, by adopting as the year's slogan, "The Bird for Harmony and the Lion for Strength."

During the meeting it was decided to purchase necessary supplies for the school cafeteria. Action was also taken on the traffic problem, decision being made to place red stop signals at the corners of Columbus and Milford, Columbus and Lexington and Pacific and Doran.

One of the chief aims of the coming year will be to beautify the school grounds. The officers and members are also anxious to create a community center at the school.

Plans were announced for a nursery on Parent-Teacher association meeting days in order that mothers of younger children can attend.

Announce Committees

Features of more informal nature yesterday were a get acquainted game arranged by Mrs. Kenneth Payne courtesy chairman; readings by Florence and Ethel Judson, and a vocal number by Gretchen Kuehney, pupils of the school. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Payne, Brown and Canfield.

Officers of the association are Mrs. C. H. Bird, president; Mrs. C. H. Lyons, vice-president; Mrs. G. W. Taylor, secretary; Miss Leota Snyder, treasurer; Mrs. M. E. Canfield, auditor; Mrs. R. W. Thew, historian.

Committee chairmen announced yesterday by Mrs. Bird are Mrs. J. S. Hayward, membership; Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., parliamentarian; Miss Lorraine Mitchell, patriotism and thrift; Mrs. M. E. Canfield, publicity; Mrs. F. A. Bryant, philanthropy and education; Mrs. Stanley Lowry, emblems and magazines; Mrs. J. M. Carpenter, child labor and legislation, juvenile protection; Mrs. E. E. Williamson, visiting; Mrs. Kenneth Payne, courtesy; Mrs. C. H. Lyons, finance; Mrs. A. D. Gaynor, playgrounds and kindergarten; Mrs. Arthur Burton, program.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Sept. 26.—The chairmen of the various committees of the La Crescenta Parent-Teacher association met at the home of the president, Mrs. C. W. Angier, on Thursday afternoon to discuss the business of the coming year, also to decide on different departmental work. The meeting opened with the treasurer's report, which showed a balance of $74 in the treasury, $10 of which will be turned over to the cafeteria department of the La Crescenta school as a sinking fund.

Officers elected to fill the vacancies left by the absence of the first vice-president, Mrs. Flora Myers, and the secretary, Mrs. E. Adkins, were Mrs. C. J. Reinhart as first vice-president and Mrs. W. F. Sprinkle. Mrs. E. Farmer was appointed membership committee chairman. The territory will be zoned, enabling Mrs. Farmer to choose committee workers in each district.

A new branch of Parent-Teacher association work will be taken up in the department under child hygiene. Mrs. Montague Cleeves will act as chairman and will give a report at the first general meeting on the cost of procuring an efficient dentist from the county office, who will be stationed at the local schools for a definite period each month. Mrs. Cleeves is also arranging menus for the school lunches which will give the highest food value with the least expense to the children.

Mrs. Eulalia Hall will be in charge of the reading and literary work of the Parent-Teacher association throughout the coming season. The association will subscribe for the Child Welfare magazine, the official organ of the Parent-Teacher association, and also for the Loan Papers, which will give the Parent-Teacher association the use of twelve magazines in connection with the work for the year at a cost of $2 per year. This was voted on, and Mrs. Hall will distribute the magazines at the meetings. There will also be a Parent-Teacher association shelf at the local branch of the Los Angeles county free library, where Mrs. Mary B. Darrow will be pleased to assist the mothers in their selection of the books suggested for parental perusal.

Mrs. E. Tillary will have charge of the philanthropic department in connection with the Women's club, as she is also in charge of the club philanthropy. Mrs. Tillary will appoint her own committee at a later date.

Mrs. Wuickert, president of the Glendale Harvard High School Parent-Teacher association, was present at the meeting to extend a personal invitation to La Crescenta valley mothers of high school boys and girls to attend the Glendale Parent-Teacher association and act as board members.

DELAY OVER BOULEVARD LIGHTING

Improvement Association In Letter to Council Asks For Long Armistice

The Colorado Boulevard Improvement association went on record late yesterday before the City Council as favoring a six months' armistice on the part of the three warring ornamental lighting standard concerns seeking by mutiplicity of petitions to secure victory for their own brand of goods on Colorado boulevard.

The letter suggested that some better way than the petition method be found to ascertain the wishes of property owners regarding street lighting standards.

The suggestion was also embodied that any lighting standards adopted for Colorado boulevard should apply to the entire

Gypsies Prowling In City, Police Are Told

Gypsies prowling around the Alley Inn at 210½ South Brand boulevard yesterday caused the proprietors to report the disturbance to the police department and today the location will be watched, states Detective Lieutenant W. J. Royle.

A woman's scream coming from the Clayton apartments at Orange and Harvard streets, at 10 o'clock last night, caused a passing patrolman to investigate. The woman said a strange man had appeared at her window. Further investigation failed to reveal anyone lurking about the premises.

Burbank and Van Nuys Odd Fellows at Meet

SEWER BIDS ASKED FOR BY CITY

Council Passes Ordinances Authorizing Clerks to Call for Prices

The $1,600,000 sewer that is to connect Glendale with the great Los Angeles outfall sewer system was brought definitely nearer to realization late yesterday when the City Council passed ordinances authorizing the city clerk to advertise for bids on construction of all three sections of this big undertaking.

The north section extends from Aviation drive to the Los Angeles river bottom, the middle section runs along the river bottom and the third section goes south to Sixth and Utah streets, Los Angeles.

As each section presents engineering problems of its own, alternate bids will be called for on

For nearly fifty years Dr. Sims gave his prophetic lectures in the largest theatres, halls and churches in the British Isles. The attendance was phenomenal, sometimes from 5000 to 8000 persons. All Glendale people interested in the study of the Bible will be cordially welcomed at the tabernacle for the lectures.

E. J. VAUGHN TO DIRECT THEATRE

Takes Charge of T. D. & L. And Tells Policy of Showing Best Films

E. J. Vaughn, the new manager of the T. D. & L. theatre at 129 North Brand boulevard, has inaugurated a policy of offering Glendale picturegoers the very best films made in America today.

As an example of this policy, he calls attention to the present week's program, with Rodolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire" running Wednesday to Saturday, D. W. Griffith's "America" going on Sunday for a three-day run, and Wednesday to Saturday, October 1 to 4, the famous Rafael Sabatini film, "The Sea Hawk."

Experienced Showman

Mr. Vaughn succeeds H. A. Albright as manager of the T. D. & L. Theatre, the latter having been promoted to personal assistant of C. L. Langley of the West Coast and Langley Theatre circuit, because of the fine record he made here.

For three years Mr. Vaughn has been with this circuit, managing the Strand Theatre in Pasadena one year, the De Luxe Theatre in Los Angeles one year, then back to the Strand and finally in charge of booking short subjects for the circuit.

On completion of the new West Coast Theatre now under construction at 220 North Brand boulevard, and which will seat 2500 people, Mr. Vaughn is slated to transfer his activities there as manager.

Show Best Films

Meanwhile it is his stated intention to make the T. D. & L. Theatre a house with a reputation for showing the best films obtainable. Outside of developing this policy, no radical changes will be made, he states.

"We can't show all the hundreds of pictures made each year," says Mr. Vaughn, "but we can and will show the best. The majority of people like clean film entertainment and that is what they will get here. While we show the leading Paramount, First National, Goldwyn and Metro attractions, good independent features are also exhibited. Our large resources permit us to exhibit the very best."

Mr. Vaughn will move to Glendale October 15 with his wife and their little daughter, Alice June, born in June of this year.

Instructive Program To Be Presented Each Day and Every Woman In Glendale Is Invited; Admission Is Free

Final arrangement of the big program for The Glendale Evening News Better Homes, Better Foods school, to be conducted by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, nationally known domestic science expert, at Hahn's auditorium, 109-A North Brand boulevard, during the week, September 29 to October 3, was completed today.

And judging from the many features scheduled on each day's program, the women of Glendale are due for a very interesting and informative five-day session with Mrs. Chase and never a dull or draggy moment during the entire time.

Each day's program will be published in detail the afternoon preceding the day on which it is to be given. For instance, the program for Monday, the opening day, will be published in these columns on Saturday afternoon. And so on throughout the week.

Prizes Each Day

Additional interest is centering today around attendance at the school, for the fact that during the past two days it has been hinted that valuable attendance prizes were to be given away at each daily session by The News.

Well, the truth of the matter is, that attendance prizes will be given away each day. Some fortunate woman will be awarded a valuable prize that will long serve as a reminder of the benefit she received at The Glendale Evening News Better Homes, Better Foods school.

All prizes will be awarded in an absolutely fair and impartial manner, everyone stands an equal chance with everyone else to become the lucky one. Just be sure to come every day—bring your friends and neighbors, and one thing more, don't forget saucer and spoon, note book and pencil.

Free Admission

No tickets or coupons for admission of any kind are necessary, every session throughout the entire week is absolutely free. Mrs. Chase will be here under the direction of this newspaper and entirely at its expense.

Following is the outline of the general program for the week. Listed under each day are simply the subjects that are to be covered. Full and complete detail of each day's program will be published the day before it is to be given as heretofore mentioned.

There's 100% more Income from an 8% investment than 4%

—are you getting your full share?

You naturally want to earn the highest possible amount of money from your regular, every day efforts. That is only human nature. And, naturally, you are always anxious "to better" yourself.

But, is the money you have saved working as hard for you as you can make it—with SAFETY?

The Preferred Stock of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation pays 8% per annum which is double that paid by many forms of investment. If you are not getting that high a return, your money is not doing its full duty.

Common Stock Profits

As attractive as are the earnings of the Preferred Stock, the Common Stock offers even greater opportunity for profit. When it begins to pay 8%, it will be worth $100 a share, the same as the preferred, and you will then have increased the value of your investment by 50%.

Safety

All of the assets of the Corporation, and the profits from all their operations, secure your investment. The assets are real. They include first mortgages on improved property, well located in Southern California—trust deeds, contracts and commercial paper. The majority of the loans will be made in small amounts to be paid back in regular payments like rent. This type of investment is known to be the safest.

The Demand for Mortgage Money

3900 people are coming here daily, according to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce figures—one out of every ten visitors makes this his permanent home. For the past three years Los Angeles has maintained third place among all the cities of the country in volume of building permits issued.

The question of obtaining the money necessary to build accommodations naturally arises.

Banks, mortgage companies and wealthy individual investors are supplying a lot of it—and they are making a nice profit. But the demand, about $1,000,000 a month, is double the supply. This need for more money is giving you this opportunity to get YOUR full share of profit.

Do you know that —you can get 8% from the Preferred Stock of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation.

—the Common Stock offers an opportunity of increasing the value of your investment by 50%

—the law of averages assures greater safety here than in individual loans

—your money is doing only part time duty if it is bringing in less than 8%

Time Payments

To make it easy for you to invest, and to help you to save regularly, we have arranged for time payments on your investment. You will receive interest on your partial payments as they are made.

Check over your capital and income. See if your money is working as hard for you now as you are doing to get it. And come in to see how you can "better yourself," in the Gibraltar Finance Corporation.

The coupon below will bring the complete details if it is not convenient to come to the office yourself.

FORCE OF BREVITY

Shakespeare recognized the value of conciseness when he said, "Brevity is the soul of wit." There is strength and force in terseness and compendiousness that long-winded repetition and argument can never achieve.

Whether it is the lecturer, the preacher or the writer who has a message, brevity is the avenue through which it will reach the public most quickly and easily. The speaker who makes a point clearly and forcibly and then stops makes a better impression upon his audience than the one who tires his hearers with repetition and prolonged disputation, and the former, and what he has to say, will be remembered long after the other is forgotten.

When the speaker or the writer leaves his audience wishing for more, the people have got his message and are pondering it. But if the article is tediously long or the speaker tiresomely verbose, the message will be soon forgotten.

The Glendale Evening News welcomes communications from its readers on timely subjects. We appreciate brevity in these articles not only because our space is valuable, but for the sake of the writer and the argument he wishes to make public. People do not take the time to read long articles unless they are especially interested in the subject matter. A message that is short will get their attention, and then if it is concise their interest will be aroused.

There is so much to read these days. Periodicals and newspapers are so plentiful and their contents so copious that the average reader merely skims them for the cream. A short article or communication will be read when a long one on the same subject will often be given no consideration.

Not every theme that a speaker or a writer might wish to present to the public can be developed in a few words or a few paragraphs, of course, but there is a great deal written and spoken that would become more clear and more interesting if condensed.

BUDGET FOR ECONOMY

The business-like housewife has a budget. So does the business-man. The budget is one of the greatest imaginable aids to system, efficiency and economy. The housekeeper has a certain allowance each month and the budget enables her to stop the leaks and make the allowance cover the current expenses and pay the monthly bills. The same thing is true in the store or office. The business man knows he will have certain expenses and he sets aside a certain amount to pay them.

Frank O. Lowden, while governor of Illinois, attracted nation-wide attention when he introduced the budget system in that state and saved the people thousands of dollars. Governor Friend W. Richardson of California also is proving, by means of the budget, that economy is possible in state government.

The budget system in the National government inaugurated by the present administration has worked out splendidly. From a yearly expenditure of $5,538,000,000 in 1921 and a surplus of $86,000,000, the costs of our government have been cut to $3,497,000,000, with a surplus of more than $500,000,000. The National debt of $24,000,000,000 was reduced by $2,750,000,000. Taxes were twice reduced and United States bonds have risen from twelve points below to well above par.

General Dawes, running mate of President Coolidge, served very effectively as the first Director of the Federal Bureau of the Budget.

SUPERIOR PEOPLE

What wonderfully superior beings we are! There are any number of people today who feel that we have outgrown the Constitution of the United States. What they really mean is that they find it irksome to be compelled to obey the Constitution. They don't attempt to show that we are superior to those who framed the great document or those who have lived happily under its protection, but they feel it would be splendid to have its restraint removed.

And now we are told that we have outgrown the Bible. "Outgrown" is scarcely the word, since we have never even tried to measure up to the book. H. G. Wells charges with some truth that the world has utterly failed to grasp the significance of the teachings of Jesus Christ and their tremendous challenges to the established habits and institutions of mankind. When someone asked whether or not Christianity is a success, the reply was, "I don't know. It has never been tried." We might say the same of the Bible. We cannot be said to have outgrown it when we have never really used it.

AMERICANS AT FAULT AGAIN

Sinclair Lewis, author and social critic, on his return to America from a protracted stay in Europe, said he was struck by the absence of interest in politics in this country in comparison to England where political talk absorbs the attention of everyone even to the exclusion of gossip and scandal. "Here," he says, "there are only two classes who care a whit what happens politically. The first class are those professionally interested—candidates, job-hunters, journalists, reformers, and bankers and manufacturers who desire to pet and gently lead the politicians. The second class are the Old Boys who gather around the stove at the Corner Store or the table of the Urban Club. And this second class has no real interest in politics; they merely pretend to."

Sinclair is right, of course. He is never wrong. But isn't it fortunate that we do not talk politics like the English "to the exclusion of gossip and scandal?" If we did, who would discuss and popularize Mr. Lewis' books?

NUTRITION AND SEX

The world owes a great deal to science, but some scientists have rather absurd ideas in regard to the information that the world needs. An experimenter has recently made a study of the comparative requirements of nutrition in the two sexes during the period of growth. The results of his experiments are said to be "quite striking."

Male and female rats were provided with the same food and their gain in weight closely watched. By the end of the thirtieth day on a ration lacking vitamines the female exhibited a retarded development, but the male continued to develop on this ration until the sixtieth day. The female showed signs of injury to health when deprived of vitamines much earlier than the male, and also died sooner when restricted to this diet.

Opportunity knocks but once, others are less conservative.

A Princess in Squalor

By DR. FRANK CRANE

At the inquest of Sylvia Pearson, aged sixty-two, wife of Edward Pearson, an old-age pensioner living in Mayfair, London, West, the other day, the story came out that Mrs. Pearson had been really a Russian Princess who died under conditions of appalling squalor.

Mrs. Edith Kent, the landlady said that the couple had lodged with her for fifteen years. The man was eighty-four years of age. Mrs. Pearson had been very poor but was known as the Princess Orloff. Mrs. Kent added that when she gave the couple food the woman would open the door just far enough to take it in. The man had not been out of the house for twelve years. The Princess was found dead in her bed one morning and had not had her clothes off in ten years.

A policeman said that he found letters in the room addressed to H. R. H. Princess Orloff. The coroner said the woman appeared to have been a Russian aristocrat who had been living in circumstances too horrible to describe.

Such instances as this would not be so striking if it were not for the fact that the person had been in better circumstances. For, "The sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier days."

In fact all of the misery and tragedy to which the human race is subjected affects us mostly by contrast. The drunkard in his cups would not be so miserable were it not for the fact that he once had an opportunity to live the normal and respectable life among his fellows.

Thackeray describes a Frenchman, whom he met in Paris, who had always been satisfied and optimistic until upon one occasion, he strove to acquire a fortune and failed; after that he was always a wretched and disappointed man.

Perhaps death is only terrible because of its contrast to life, just as our existing life is only tragic compared with what it might have been.

Always hopes have their shadows, and it remains true that "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, 'It might have been.'"

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day. Although early in the morning Saturn and the Sun are in benefic aspect, Saturn changes to evil power.

During this sway it is well to be diplomatic with all employes and to avoid labor disputes.

There is a sign indicating much prejudicial propaganda regarding capital and there may be widespread discontent.

The seers declare that the result of the national election will be surprising even to seasoned political prophets, because at the end of the campaign a sensational incident will change many votes.

The horoscope for election day has Saturn in malefic sway, an aspect not favorable to the best hopes of workers.

This should be a satisfactory rule for persons with large ambitions and much self confidence.

Warning is again given by astrologers that egotism and selfishness will be even more apparent than in the past.

Betrayals of trust and disloyalties in friendship are likely to be numerous.

Mercury in the eleventh house is read as presaging an unusual autumn session of the English parliament, which may be of far-reaching and unexpected influence.

Again earthquake shocks are predicted for the central or middle western states.

Venus on the meridian at Berlin will greatly benefit Germany.

New and amazing medical discoveries are foretold and Americans are to win fame for their scientific achievements.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a quiet year that should bring good returns for faithful devotion to business interests. Employes probably will be promoted.

Children born on this day probably will be conscientious and industrious. These subjects of Libra usually have a big stock of hope and even temper.

SONNET

What can I give thee back, O liberal
And princely giver, who has brought the gold
And purple of thine heart, unstained, untold,
And laid them on the outside of the wall
For such as I to take or leave withal,
In unexpected largess? Am I cold,
Ungrateful, that for these most manifold
High gifts, I render nothing back at all?
Not so; not cold—but very poor instead.
Ask God who knows. For frequent tears have run
The colors from my life, and left so dead
And pale a stuff, it were not fitly done
To give the same as pillow to thy head.
Go farther! let it serve to trample on.

—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

SAYS 'GOOD WORD'

Senator Magnus Johnson in Washington the other day met a dirt farmer from back home.

"Senator," said the farmer, "I didn't vote for you, but I wanted to see you win."

"Weak support," said Senator Johnson, and he added: "You remind me of a Deacon Miller, who was delegated to speak a good word in memory of Bill Simmons, deceased. The deacon refused this duty at first, for Bill had been a pretty bad customer. In the end, though, he accepted the job, and on Sunday he rose and discharged it in this way: 'Bredden and sistern, Ah done promised fo' to say a good word fo' William Simmons, deceased, and so Ah hereby says we all hopes he's gwine whar we all knows he hain't."

Who's Who

A millionaire whose hobby is politics is Rhinelander Waldo, former police commissioner of New York, who is slated to succeed Major General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines, as administrative head of the islands. Waldo, if named, will be technically commissioner general.

Waldo resigned the police commissionership recently to lend his aid in the Republican presidential campaign. He was appointed first deputy police commissioner in 1906. In January, 1910, he was asked to become commissioner of the New York fire department and spent a year in reorganizing that department and increasing its efficiency. In May, 1911, he was made police commissioner.

During his first service with the police department he was sent to Europe to study police methods there and on his return instituted many new ideas in the New York department, including the finger print department. He served as a major of infantry in the National army in the World war and following the conflict assumed his police duties once more. He was born in New York City May 24, 1877.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

IN 1796— JOHN ADAMS ELECTED

When it came to the third presidential election Thomas Jefferson threw a monkey-wrench into the smooth-running, non-partisan electoral machinery planned by the framers of the Constitution.

By the second year of Washington's second term it was generally understood that he would not run again. He was the richest man in the country and his private affairs demanded his attention: he longed for the patriarchal life of Mount Vernon.

Early the next year Jefferson resigned from the cabinet and began to prepare for the coming struggle. Around him gathered a party which came to be known as the Republican party, as opposed to the Federalists who represented the ideas of George Washington, John Adams and Andrew Hamilton, and who looked upon Adams as the logical successor of Washington.

A year more and the campaign was in full swing. For the first time there were two distinct political parties and, though there were no caucuses, conventions or nominations, each had a definite candidate for President and Vice-President.

Unless it was the campaign four years later, the United States has never seen such a scurrilous, bitter, vindictive presidential contest. Jefferson was pictured as a revolutionist to whom Robespierre was a reactionary conservative; and Adams as a tyrant "to whom Nero was an enlightened philanthropist." Washington exerted all his personal influence and used all the machinery of the Federal government in favor of Adams, with the result that Adams received 71 votes in the Electoral College to Jefferson's 68, Jefferson thus becoming Vice-President under his hated rival. Thomas Pinckney of South Carolina, the Federalist candidate for Vice-President, received 59 votes and Aaron Burr, the Republican candidate for that office, 30. There were scattering votes for Samuel Adams of Massachusetts, now 74 years old; for Oliver Ellsworth of Connecticut, a great man in his day and destined to become Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; for Pinckney's brother, Charles; George Clinton and John Jay. A complimentary vote of two was cast for Washington. Samuel Johnston of North Carolina, John Henry of Maryland, and James Iredell of North Carolina, three men who came and went in politics and left no trace, each received two votes.

When the smoke of the battle had cleared away it was plainly apparent that the power of choosing presidents still resided in the Electoral College and not in the people. Some of the electors from states where popular elections had been held had exercised their undoubted right to vote for whom they pleased regardless of the popular vote. This set the political leaders to thinking; and from that time to this no one has been allowed to become an elector who was not "hogtied" to his party. But just suppose one of them should break loose some day!

In their petition to the City Council, the merchants declare that the closing of Central avenue during the work has resulted in a decline in business and continued falling off of trade is expected, they declare, if the avenue remains closed for any great length of time.

Optimists Hear Description Of Countries Visited by Sam S. Davis

Sam P. Davis, 217 N. Orange street, gave an interesting resume of his recent seven months' tour of Europe at the luncheon of the Optimists club today noon. Mr. Davis, with his wife, returned last week from their voyage, which took them through Greece, Italy, Switzerland, Holland and the British Isles.

L. H. Wilson spoke briefly on the bond issue election, urging the Optimist club members to exercise their rights by voting and strongly stressing the need for the bonds carrying. He cited Glendale's growth in the last few years as a barometer of what was to come in the future and stressed the need for every citizen voting.

Carl S. Kegley, of Los Angeles, worker for the junior committee of the Chamber of Commerce urged every member present to register and exercise his right of franchise at both the bond election and the coming presidential election. Afterwards he entertained on the piano and gave two vocal selections.

City Council Outlines New Policy on Street Lighting

The policy of the city in regard to application for ornamental street lighting standards in residential districts will henceforth be to grant such applications where a petition is presented containing the names of fifty per cent of the property owners or over, but electricity will be furnished to such standards only at the discretion of the city, according to the terms of an ordinance Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, was ordered to prepare at yesterday's session of the City Council.

It has heretofore been the policy of the city to grant all majority applications for such standards, and to invariably supply electricity to the same. It is anticipated by the City Council and by Peter L. Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, and Virgil B. Stone, city manager, that when the forthcoming ordinance is in effect a considerable future saving in the municipal light bill will result.

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

Republicans of New York have named Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, as candidate for governor. While the younger Teddy has all the qualities of his illustrious father, no doubt, more will be expected of him in any official capacity than the rank and file of politicians.

Sons of fathers who are more or less prominent have no easy life. And their chances for standing on their own feet are discounted by achievements of their forebears.

If the son of somebody worth while gets into trouble there are columns of publicity. And so it goes in everything said or done. Which is enough to cause some young men to leave home.

Instances where tables are reversed, however, are more pleasurable for sons and parents alike. Take Lieutenant Lowell Smith, for example. His parents have been feted and talked about and they have shared their son's achievement in no unmistakable manner.

In barring La Follette electors from an independent ticket the California Supreme court by a 4 to 3 decision may force them onto the Socialist ticket.

The senator from Wisconsin already has announced his intention of invading this state with a campaign tour which will materially affect his vote-getting power.

It would appear that his followers will capitalize the court's decision as campaign propaganda.

Service clubs of Glendale are performing a great civic duty in issuing pamphlets urging the citizens to register and vote. There are but nine days more to register, including this day, if you would vote at the presidential election.

The Glendale Evening News is urging all residents of Glendale who are qualified to take the opportunity of registering.

Then go to the polls and vote. Do your duty as a citizen.

KIWANIANS HEAR DEBATE ON BONDS

Committee Chairman Leaves Discussion to Members; Report on Party

Discussion of the forthcoming bond issue featured the regular business meeting of the Glendale Kiwanis club, held this noon at the Woman's Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Chairman Bert Woodard of the public affairs committee for the club, stated there were too many important questions involved for his committee to solve for the club as a whole and that he therefore suggested that the entire matter be thrown open for discussion by the club members.

As a result of the information thus brought to the attention of the members it was felt that not only as service club members but as citizens and business men of Glendale a much more intelligent vote would be cast on next Tuesday.

Report on Party

Chairman "Bill" Bode of the Hallokiwanis celebration committee made a very interesting report on the preliminary work of this event. Judging from the many interesting features enumerated some 4,000 or 5,000 Glendale boys and girls are due for a very wonderful time on next Hallowe'en night.

Two splendid musical numbers were very much enjoyed and enthusiastically received. Henry Raphael, violinist, and a member of the Glendale Community orchestra, played "Traumeri" by Schumann and as an encore, "Melody in F" by Rubenstein. Mrs. Viva Lee Weidman, contralto, sang "By the Land of the Sky Blue Water" by Lieurance and for an encore "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. Mrs. Gertrue Erb accompanied both artists at the piano.

Tire Sale Is Started By Auto Supply Firm

The Monarch Auto Supply Co. of 204 South Brand has started a sale on its standard lines of auto tires including Lee, Keaton and Eagle Cords; to make room for merchandise arriving. H. M. Butts says:

"Indications of the tire market all point to increased prices in the immediate future and the far-sighted motorist will lay in a stock of tires now when he can do so at the prices we are asking for this merchandise. Every one of these lines is complete just now, but this condition will not last many days at the prices we are putting on the tags, and those who need new tires now, or will need them soon, can save themselves money by laying in a stock to meet their needs for the entire winter. It must be borne in mind that these tires are firsts and that their quality is unsurpassed and our only reason for offering them as we are doing is to make room for other lines that we are going to stock in future."

AWAITING JACK FROST

CALEXICO, Sept. 26.—Speculating as to when the first frost will appear to stop the growing of cotton, is beginning to occupy the minds of cotton planters here. Although thermometers in Imperial valley are still registering around 100 degrees at noon, the frost question is an important one in view of the light crop this year.

SPEEDER GOES TO JAIL

SANTA ANA, Sept. 26.—Traveling at an alleged speed of fifty miles per hour past a high school here recently cost Gilbert Higuara, 21, of Santa Ana, thirty days of his freedom. "Speeding past a school is one of the most unpardonable acts and these speeders are going to be given the maximum penalty," City Recorder V. Heathman told the youth when he attempted to secure his release by payment of a fine.

FENCE CAUSES PROTEST

SANTA ANA, Sept. 26.—Legal action is being considered by property owners at Corona Del Mar against W. J. Hole to force the removal of a fence he has built in a portion of the right of way for Ocean boulevard, according to County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb, one of the interested property owners.

PROTECTION FOR ORCHARDS

SANTA ANA, Sept. 26.—A simple method to spare orchards from frost and do away with the smudge pot and reduce the cost to practically nothing was prescribed here by William F. Heitzman of Los Angeles, who claims he has invented a process which will eliminate all worry and cost. The simple act of hanging pieces of iron at intervals throughout the tree is the simple trick. The iron attracts the cold, sooner than wood will, thus absorbing sufficient moisture to create a thick atmosphere, making it impossible for the cold air to penetrate the limbs of the trees.

CONDENSED GOAT MILK

CORONA, Sept. 26.—An unusual industry is to be established here when the Bralef Goat Milk condensary commences operation with twenty people employed. Several hundred goats in Riverside and Orange counties will furnish the milk to be condensed.

ELECTRICITY STOLEN, CLAIM

HEMET, Sept. 26.—R. E. Phelps, engaged in ranching and real estate here, faces trial on a charge made by the Southern Sierras Power Co., that he has been stealing electricity by rewiring meters at his residence and ranch properties. He paid for only 5 per cent of that which he used, it is said.

Landslide Hits Swiss Village; Fifteen Dead

MILAN, Sept. 26.—Fifteen persons were killed and twenty houses destroyed when a landslide swept down upon the Swiss village of Como yesterday. The landslide followed a hurricane which caused heavy damage at Locarno.

LEGION BATTLES ON LA FOLLETTE

Former War Veterans In Northwest Behind Drive To Help Coolidge

ties. Senator La Follette is upbraided as a pro-German. Senator Wheeler is condemned because as United States attorney in Montana he refused to prosecute certain members of the I. W. W. who in wartime defied the draft law.

Radicalism Grows

There are relatively few Germans in this state, so the Republicans need have no fear here as they have in other states that in attacking La Follette they will lose German votes. The fight against La Follette in this section, however, has more in it than the memory of anti-war activity. The growth of radicalism in this region is recognized as something that the conservatives must counteract. The La Follette movement is drawing from both Republican and Democrat camps, but mostly from the latter.

In order, therefore, to keep down the La Follette vote the conservatives are hoping the Democrats can in some way be urged to vote for Davis. Every vote recovered for Davis is counted as one lost to La Follette. There is a noticeable friendliness to Davis in certain Republican newspapers supporting Coolidge.

Democrats Desert

If the Democrat vote could be held in line for Davis, President Coolidge would easily carry the state. But the Democrats are going over in large numbers to La Follette and Wheeler. If the Wisconsin senator swallows the Democratic party in this state and gets a fair share of the Republican vote, he will win the electoral vote. There are signs that many Democrats of the radical fringe, and some who are not so radical, but who care far more about a victory for their state ticket, will trade votes with the La Follette supporters. Thus with the La Follete people not especially concerned about the state ticket, their votes must go to the Democratic state candidates in return for La Follette support. Deals like this carried the state for Roosevelt in 1912. Also two years ago, Senator Clarence Dill beat Senator Poindexter by combination of Democratic and radical Republican votes.

Hope For Victory

The regular Republicans are hopeful of victory, however, through other channels. For one thing they are really planning to get out the conservative Republican vote. Then there is the mixup over La Follette electors. At present there are three separate sets of La Follette electors going on the ballot, unless an agreement can be reached or the courts intervene. One set of electors will probably be withdrawn through the influence of Senator La Follette himself, but another set, it is charged, is there through collusion with the regular Republicans and will not get off. In the hope of confusing the enemy, the Republicans are not in any hurry about unscrambling the situation.

There are some signs, of course, that the state is not as radically inclined as it was two years ago. A recent election for supreme court judges resulted in a defeat for the radicals. Improvement in agricultural conditions has swept aside some of the protest vote which might have gone to La Follette.

Want Financial Aid

Effective organization work is being done in Spokane. The factional troubles inside the Republican party in the western end of the state have not been removed and the campaign has not yet really been begun. There is talk that the local leaders want financial aid from national headquarters and that some of them are anxious to build an organization that will recover lost ground in state affairs.

On the face of it, La Follette has an even chance of carrying this state today. By election day the work of the ex-service men and the Republican organization probably will make it a different story, but it will be close. About ten thousand plurality for President Coolidge is the most that is hoped for.

Long Beach Fighter Defeats Montana Boy

Fighting away at a whirlwind clip in the first two rounds and then putting across a knockout wallop in the third that sent his opponent to the canvas for the count, Buck Curtis, of Long Beach, gained the title of lightweight champion of Montana when he defeated Buster Brandon in the headliner at the C. P. O. club at San Pedro last night. Brandon had been brought to the coast by those interested in seeing Curtis matched with a real fighter, and it was shown that the Long Beach lad is somewhat of a scrapper himself. For excitement the Sailor Reed-Young Burmay fight was the real thriller, with the two men standing toe to toe and battling to a draw. Daney Toomey and Young Foley also fought on even terms.

Man Taken From Auto And Brutally Beaten

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Victim of an attack police believed to have been inspired by jealousy, Ralph Koch, 25, was dragged from his automobile here yesterday by three unidentified men, beaten and left to die in the street. Koch was waiting for a woman friend when attacked. He will recover.

Funds for Publicity Sought by Committee

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the Citizens' Bond committee this morning at 9 o'clock at bond headquarters, six additional members were added to the committee to assist in raising additional finances to be used for publicity purposes. Those named to assist in the work were H. M. Butz, George Bentley, W. A. Hail, Percy Hayselden, W. L. Twining and Alexander Mitchell. Citizens desiring to assist in the publicity fund may do so by donating amounts to any of the above members in addition to the executive committee. Considerable expense is entailed in the publicity drive and the fund is lowering fast, it is stated.

Another meeting will be held tonight at bond headquarters, when precinct workers will report on the progress made. D. C. Casselman, chairman of the precinct committee of the Realty Board, reported on the progress made by his workers.

Carroll Nye, Talented Actor, to Appear Here

Glendale friends of Myra Nye, well known Los Angeles newspaper woman and club editor, will be interested in the Dobinson Players, opening an engagement next week at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, because her son, Carroll Nye, is one of the players. Mr. Nye, who is a talented young acter, has filled forty-two weeks of professional engagements in the past year. He has appeared in stock at the Fine Arts and Majestic theatres in Los Angeles, in prologues at Graumans', in pageant work with Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith and Garnet Holme, and in motion pictures. In "A Prince There Was," the opening vehicle of the Dobinson Players, Mr. Nye will play "Bland."

Glendalian Invents Door-Holding Device

Ralph C. Farr of 533 West Doran street has joined the ranks of inventors, and will place upon the market within the next few days a device to be known as the "Three-Way Garage Doorstop." The device is made of iron, with a piece of spring steel affixed at right angle near the top.

Mr. Farr claims the device will automatically hold garage doors, and the doors can be released without soiling shoes, clothing or temper. The garage door passed over the piece of spring steel, which holds the door in place, Mr. Farr said. He has designed the doorstop so it can be installed in concrete driveways, against the wall of a building or in earth.

Urge Every Voter to Go to Polls Tuesday

That every Glendale voter should cast a ballot in the coming bond election was the unanimous opinion expressed yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the Physicians' club at the Alley Inn. The club is to have a representation in the parade Monday afternoon. There were over fifteen physicians in attendance at the luncheon. They listened to discussions by Dr. O. A. Dieterich and Dr. L. L. Jones, head of the X-ray department of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

IN HOSPITAL

W. C. Smith of 328 West Milford street is a patient at the Glendale Research hospital.

Nipissing Mines declared an extra dividend of 3 per cent and regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, both payable October 20. This is the same extra as paid a year ago at this time.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

Sunlight Cure

Mrs. F.—Keep your little boy out in the open air as much as possible and with few clothes on, so that he can have the direct stimulation of the sun and air on his skin. For direct exposure to the sun, begin not more than five minutes twice a day, morning and afternoon, and then gradually increase the exposure until he is thoroughly tanned, and then he can stay out for much longer periods. "The human plant, of all other plants, needs sunlight the most."

His mouth breathing, after his obstructive tonsils and adenoids have been removed, is probably due to habit and you will have to strap up his chin every night until it is overcome. Are you sure his nose is not obstructed? Better have him examined again, for sometimes adenoids recur.

For making the CHIN STRAP: Put a strip of cloth under his chin and over the top of his head, and one around his forehead, pinning the two together on both sides. That will prevent them from slipping.

For the local treatment of CATARRH: First, thorough cleansing of the nose. A strong atomizer containing a salt and soda solution is good—one teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon of baking soda to the pint of water. After this cleansing, use some antiseptic oily preparation with the antomizer. A good formula is: menthol, five grains; camphor, five grains; and liquid petroleum, four ounces. If it seems to irritate at all use twice the amount of liquid petroleum.

The child's diet is extremely important. He should have the following FOUNDATION DIET every day:

Protective Foods—Three glasses of milk (at least). One cupful of vegetables (especially the green leaf vegetables) part raw. One cupful of fruit, part fresh.

Energy Foods—Cereals, including whole grain breads. Fats in the form of butter, cream, egg yolks and nuts.

Reducing While Nursing Baby

"Dear Doctor: I am about 50 pounds overweight. I have five children and nursed them all, and with each child I got heavier. I am nursing my baby now. Would it hurt him if I went on a diet?

"I live on a farm and do lots of hoeing and outdoor work besides housework. I have lots of trouble with cramps in my body, legs and arms, and I must be careful how I move or else a cramp will start somewhere at once. What can I do for this I see no trouble excepting perhaps overwork and overweight—Mrs. A. B."

No, it will not harm your baby for you to reduce while nursing him. That is, provided you do not exclude from your diet the foods which make good milk: i. e., milk containing the elements your baby needs to build with. You should have the equivalent of one quart of milk a day (and when I say "equivalent" I mean you can take part of it in the form of puddings, custards, cream soups, and so forth) for its complete protein and calcium, for the baby's muscles and teeth; some cream and butter (especially if you do not take whole milk) for its growth and anti-rachatic vitamins; fresh vegetables, especially green leaf vegetables, spinach, lettuce and so forth; and fresh fruits for their growth and anti-scurvy and anti-neuritic vitamins and mineral elements; some nuts, some whole wheat bread and whole grain cereals, egg yolks.

Your history is the history of many mothers who become overweight, under the impression that it is necessary to eat a good deal in order to have good milk. It is necessary to eat some more than normal, but eating very much more oftentimes defeats the purpose, and the milk is poorer rather than better.

Your cramps may be due to your overweight and you probably have a degree of acidosis from overeating of breads, sweets and meat. Eat very little bread and cereals, take potatoes instead. They are a non-acid forming food. The booklet on reducing has been sent to you if you enclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps with your request.

Tomorrow—Monthly Form Letter.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

The following knitting directions are for a surplice sweater for a six-months-old baby (or any fairly small baby under a year old). The sleeves of this sweater are long and the front has one pointed end folding over an opposite pointed end; a narrow belt is knitted to these pointed-fronts, which buttons in the back.

Materials: One ball of pink two-fold Saxony, one pair of either bone or celluloid knitting needles size four, two pearl buttons.

Terms: K means knit. P means purl. Sts. means stitches. N means narrow (that is, knit two stitches together as one stitch). R means ridge. B. o. l. means bind off loosely.

Begin the sweater by casting on 50 sts. K on, P one for 22 rows. K 22 R (over and back making one ridge).

For sleeves cast on ten sts at each end fo the row; repeat on next row across, add five on the next row across, giving 100 in all. K 16 r.

For the neck knit 38 sts. and slip cnto a safety pin; bind off 24 sts. for the back of the neck and k the remaining 38 sts. for one ridge.

For the front: At the neck end and on the second row of the ridge increase one of the second st. by knitting the back and the front of the same stitch; repeat this widening each ridge for the entire front. On the sixteenth ridge shape the second side of the sleeve, bind off five. On the next row across bind off ten. Repeat ten on the next row. At the front end of the work, cast on 26 sts. and K one, P one, for 12 rows for the belt, then B. O. L.

Make a second front, beginning with the 38 stitches on the safety pin. Finish both fronts and neck with a single crochet edging. When sewing up seam, leave opening for the belt, which is fastened with the two pearl buttons.

For the cuff, pick up 32 sts. and K one, for 12 rows. Then B. O. L. This finishes the garment.

For an unusually large baby it would be better to use three-fold Saxony instead of two fold Saxony, to make the sweater larger.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Unique Birthday

Jean Campbell, daughter of the Kemper Campbells, was hostess at a very unique birthday party when she attained the age of 4 years. The party took place Tuesday, and the home of the little girl's grandparents, the D. J. Hibbens, with whom she has made her home during her parents' summer in Europe. During the summer, with the aid and under the instruction of Mrs. Hibben, Jean pieced a quilt similar to the ones made by her grandmother when she was a little girl. The corner squares of the quilt were cut from materials that had been gowns of her great grandmother, and the other pieces were given to her by relatives. As the party was in part to celebrate the completion of the quilt, a number of grandmothers were invited to enjoy an old-fashioned "quilting," while the little folks played their games on the lawn. At the close of the afternoon ice cream and cake were served. Twenty children and twelve grown-ups made up the list of guests.

Birthday Party

Miss Phyllis Doggett was the honored guest at a party given by her mother, Mrs. F. L. Doggett, at the family home, 916 East Orange Grove avenue, Monday afternoon, the occasion being her thirteenth birthday. The rooms of the Doggett home were effectively decorated with bouquets of sweetpeas and ferns, a color scheme of pink and white being carried out. The table was decorated with a bouquet of ferns and sweetpeas, with a white cake decorated with pink candies, and basket favors containing candies. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, fruit and candy were served by the hostess. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with games, and musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, were rendered by the guests. Those present were Misses Caroline Spradling, Marguerite Chappell, Dorothy Read, Ella Louise May, La Verne Mossberg, Kathleen and Phyllis Doggett. The guest of honor was the recipient of some very nice birthday remembrances.

Californians Mourn Death of Aged Actress

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Californians today mourned Lotta Crabtree, famous actress, following news of her death in Boston at the age of 77, because of the hold she had on the imaginations of the older generations who knew her as an entertainer beloved all over the state, as the Sarah Bernhardt of the west. She first appeared on the stage in Petaluma, Cal., at the age of 6, back in 1853, and later became famous in the historic mining camps of the early sixties. Lotta's fountain on Market street was one of the many philanthropies of the actress in this city. Miss Crabtree is reputed to have left a fortune of $10,000,000.

An unbreakable metal top for percolators is said to improve the coffee.

GETS JEWELS SMASHING WINDOW

Thief Makes Escape With Rings Worth $500 From South Brand Store

A thief some time last night hurled a brick through the window of C. L. Winter, jeweler, 203 South Brand boulevard, and made off with four trays of rings valued at $500.

A patrolman from the Glendale police department, passing at 6:30 o'clock this morning, saw the broken window and got in touch with Dr. C. S. Steelman of that address, from whom Mr. Winter subleases. An investigation is under way.

No Insurance

Mr. Winter states that neither the rings nor the plate-glass window was insured. A complete check has not been made and it is feared that other articles may have been stolen.

The brick, of the common red building variety, was found inside the display window, amid a clutter of watches and other articles of jewelry that were evidently beyond reach of the groping arm that swept a clean arc of everything in grasping distance.

After going over his stock, Mr. Winter decided to immediately hold a great reduction sale as a means of raising money. He declares that he will make a 20 per cent reduction on every article in his stock, nothing reserved.

Commission to Solve Problem of Crossing

The City Planning Commission met in special session at the City Hall last night, Chairman T. W. Watson presiding, to discuss the matter of separating the grades at the Los Feliz Road crossing of the Southern Pacific railroad.

This is the first of several such meetings that are to be held within the next thirty days, Mr. Watson states, the ultimate object being to study the project in detail and embody the findings in a report which will be presented at a regular meeting of the commission and adopted with recommendations.

The executive committee of the City Planning commission will meet at the City Hall at 9 o'clock next Monday morning, September 29, to go over the Lake street section with a view to studying the proposal that the truck highway follow Flower street through that district. The next regular meeting of the commission will be held at the City Hall Monday night.

CIVIC CENTER PROJECT IS OPPOSED

Advancement Association In Discussion Decides on Bond Propositions

Following a lengthy discussion on the proposed bond issues by members of the Glendale Advancement association at their noon luncheon yesterday, that body went on record as in favor of propositions 1, 5, 6-A and 9, divided opinions on propositions 2, 3 and 6, and against proposition 4, calling for $650,000 bonds for a civic center. No definite action was taken on 8-A and 8-B, but discussion showed the members to be against both the city park sites, north and south.

Secretary Herman Nelson expressed the opinion that the city at the present time has a site in Rossmoyne tract, and, second, that the $122,500 proposed for that park was not sufficient to purchase additional grounds there and improve such. It was also pointed out that, should the bonds be voted there, it would mean that the money would of necessity be spent in that tract, since no portion of it could be diverted to other sources.

Declared 'Bait'

In giving reasons why the association was not in favor of a city park in the south, it was pointed out that a suitable park site could not be purchased there for $35,000, and that evidently this issue had been placed on the ballot more as a bait to gather votes in that section than anything else.

C. W. Ingledue, president of the association, expressed the belief that the civic center proposition was the main issue, and strongly opposed it as not practical at this time. Owing to the fact that "the Harvard street buildings are all of class C construction and obsolete, they could not be remodeled suitably for a city hall," he said. No plans have been submitted by any architect, nor has the city planning commission stated how the grounds and buildings could be remodeled, it was stated. The proposed bonds of $650,000 would not be sufficient to purchase the grounds and buildings and make it over into a city park, according to association members, and should the city attempt to dispose of property along Colorado street it would be entering into the real estate business.

Spending of Money

Should the present city hall be dismantled, as would be necessary under the proposition, the present fire station and library on Harvard street would have to be sold, and, inasmuch as the Carnegie library fund used in the past would be returned, this does not seem practical. Four of the present city councilmen's terms expire before the bonds would be used, and the citizens do not know who would be in office to spend their money, association members asserted.

Discussion brought out the statement that the local school boards were at the present time contemplating asking for a bond issue of a million dollars for the extension of Glendale schools. Inamuch as proper plans have not been submitted to the voters, showing how the school situation will be handled, the association believes that it is advisable at the present time to keep the school buildings now owned, as schools are a necessity, before such a large bond issue should be carried.

The committee named to prepare literature for circulation, stating the association's stand, is made up of President C. W. Ingledue, Secretary Herman Nelson, H. M. Brown, J. M. McClish and Ted Mink.

CHAPTER LXII

"Yes, I did, later. When I was going about with Louise's children. But, Dora, dearest, you mustn't—you mustn't let this thing come between us so! To meet me with a suspicious question like that——"

"Sis," Dora interrupted, unimpressed, "swear to me, swear to me that you haven't seen him since dinner!"

"No, I'll not swear," Hilary said, proudly.

She loosened her beautiful coat, carried it to her closet, and returned to the fire. Dora looked up at her with a placating smile.

"Hilary, I'm sorry. But I don't know myself in these days, I don't know what I'm doing half the time!"

"No," Hilary agreed, sadly, "I don't think you do!"

"That's—being in love, I suppose," Butterfly said, with a somewhat hesitating air. "What is it—where did you get it? From Craig's mother?" she broke off, suddenly diverted.

Hilary had dropped wearily upon the davenport beside her sister; now Dora's eyes had discovered the brooch. She bent toward it eagerly.

"Konrad gave me that this afternoon," Hilary admitted, simply, framing it with her white fingers and looking down at it with a half-smile. "It was his mother's."

"Konrad did!" Dora had drawn back, her eyes were hard and bright, her breast rose stormily.

"This afternoon."

"He had taken it to the bazaar to give you?"

"I suppose so."

Dora was silent. Hilary looked up, and their eyes met in a long stare.

"What did he say?" Dora asked, in a whsiper.

"Butterfly——" Hilary protested, mildly.

Dora flushed hotly, and bit her lip. Her eyes moved quickly and absently to and fro; she seemed meditating.

"That's it. You have taken him away from me," she said at last, in a hard, dry voice. "That's what has changed him—you've been doing it all this time. I never saw it! You knew what it meant to me, you knew I loved him—that didn't make any difference! Your promise to Father—your promise that you would take me to Kronski, to this very man—that was nothing. You've broken your word to us all—you've ruined my life!"

Hilary was amazed at the calm with which she could study the slender, shaking figure, the blazing brown eyes. Dora looked even smaller and younger than ever tonight in her plain little black crepe gown.

Butterfly, don't talk so! You don't mean it, dear. A girl of twenty-one, who has a good devoted, splendid husband——"

"Now, listen to me, Hilary!" Dora said, in a fierce whisper, sitting for a moment beside Hilary, clutching her sister's arm in fingers like a vise. "I am going to fight for this—because it means either happiness, or that my life is over—that there is nothing left! You sha'n't tell him—you sha'n't tell him that dear little Butterfly is happy with Craig, and that Butterfly gets wild notions, but she is only a child, you sha'n't get him away from me that way! I'm not a child, I'm a woman, and I love him! Do you suppose that I am going to sit still? I'm beautiful, you've told me so. I have music and languages and youth—do you suppose that doesn't mean anything? He did love me—last April—do you think I was fooling myself.

"He may love you, Dora, or you may be one of the many women who have flirtations with a celebrity," Hilary said, not unkindly, laying her hand upon her sister's. "I don't know, dear. I know that he gave me this."

Dora sprang to her feet.

"Oh——" she cried, suffocating. "Oh, you——" She flashed to the door. "I hate you!" she panted, and was gone.

Hilary, shaken and frightened, sat on, expecting at every moment that Dora would return, at least somewhat quieter, at least penitent over that last phrase. But the moments went by, and silence settled again in the disturbed air.

The little mantel clock struck the half-hour after eleven: showed a quarter to twelve. And still Hilary sat on, thinking with trouble and distress of Dora, but remembering, with a great joyful leap of her heart every minute or two, to glance at the old-fashioned pin on her breast.

There was a discreet rap at the door.

"Come in, my darling!" Hilary cried, going to meet it.

But it was not Dora; it was Banks, with a message.

"Mr. Spaulding telephoned. Miss. And he will be here at twelve o'clock, if you please. Or possibly a little later."

"Thank you, Banks," Hilary said, bewildered. "But—did he ask you to tell me?"

"No, Miss. But I thought you might wish to send word to Mrs. Craig, Miss."

"Send word to—— Isn't she in her room?"

"No, Miss." Banks was merely a mouthpiece for news. "She went out, Miss."

"Mrs. Craig——! Went out now?" Hilary's horror lifted her far above the thoughts of anything the man might say or feel. "Who—when——" she stammered.

"She went out at just half-past eleven, Miss. Emma went down to the door with her, and called a cab, I believe. I was in the pantry, and came out just as Emma was closing the door."

"Send Emma here!" But Hilary could not wait. She ran past Banks and into Butterfly's beautiful empty room. The maid turned, a young black figure, from before Butterfly's dressing-table.

She answered Hilary respectfully: "Yes'm," she said, "she was to be back immejedly. She didn't wish to disturb you——"

"Did you hear the address she gave the taxi?" Hilary interrupted, harshly.

"I don't know as I remember it. He was to wait, and bring her back immejedly," Emma said, airily unconcerned.

"Why didn't you go with her!" Hilary said, frantic with fear.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

"Saintly Sinners," a satirical drama of small-town hypocrisy, well larded with good, wholesome comedy, is still drawing typical Murphy crowds at the tent theatre of Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians), corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo—and "Murphy crowds" means packed houses, declares Manager J. A. Menard of this popular company.

Particularly during the first half of the third act does "Saintly Sinners" get hilarious. Anyone who has ever gone through the embarrassment of soliciting the heart of his "sweetie" and then asking her dad or big brother for her hand, will enjoy the delicious foolery of this scene.

Because the seating capacity of the tent is limited and thousands are endeavoring to see this old favorite, Mr. Murphy urges Glendalians to purchase their tickets in advance at J. J. Schulte's drug store, 251 North Brand boulevard. The curtain rises nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

THE GATEWAY

What of the woman whose husband has decided that he need no longer court her?

This is the intriguing theme of the First National production, "Single Wives," now showing at the Gateway theatre today and Saturday in which Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills are co-featured for the first time on the screen.

Earl Hudson, the author, had delved into the innermost recesses of the human heart and taken from it a story of its aches and desires; he has made a subtle etching of a modern matrimonial tangle; he has painted a portrait of wedded folk that is said to be of wide appeal and true to latter-day life.

In the story of "Single Wives," the author has shown how a normal couple, loving each other and living a quiet life, may, through the agency of trifling incidents, drift apart—perhaps to the danger point.

Betty Jordan—played by Corinne Griffith—yearns for the little, thoughtful acts that her husband, Perry, seems to overlook. When he presents her with a pearl necklace on their wedding anniversary he unwittingly hurts her to the quick by his lack of enthusiasm or romanticism. When another man appears on the horizon and he gives her more attention than she receives from her husband she finds herself drifting away from her fireside. Her own mother, at the same, time faces the same situation. How the two trinagles are finally solved makes the unfolding of "Single Wives" an absorbing story.

In addition to Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills, the cast boasts of very prominent screen names, including Kathlyn Williams, Lou Tellegen, Henry B. Walthall, Phyllis Haver, Phillips Smalley, Jere Austin, John Patrick and others. George Archianhaud directed the picture from a scenario by Marion Orth.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY MAILS A LETTER

"Uncle Wiggily, if I go out and leave you now, will you get your own tea and cakes?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy of the rabbit gentleman one evening at the supper table.

"What kind of tea—catnip?" asked Uncle Wiggily, joking like.

"Of course not! Regular tea—the kind I always make for you!" laughed Nurse Jane.

"What kind of cake—strawberry long cake?" went on the rabbit.

"Strawberry LONG cake—there isn't any such thing!" said Nurse Jane. "I suppose you mean strawberry SHORT cake, but I can't make that at this time of year—with no strawberries. I mean chocolate cake. Will you get that and your tea for yourself if I go away now?" and she arose from the table and hopped toward the door.

"Where are you going?" asked the bunny.

"Seems to me you are asking many questions," Nurse Jane laughed again. "But I am going to the postoffice to mail a letter."

"Let me mail it for you," offered Uncle Wiggily kindly. "You get my tea and cake and I'll mail the letter."

This suited Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy and a little while afterward Mr. Longears was hopping down the road with the letter in his paws and in his pocket money to buy some sticky stamps to stick on the letter so it would be taken where Nurse Jane wanted it to go.

"While you're at it," said Uncle Wiggily to the postmaster dog, "give me a lot of extra stamps. I'm going to write some letters tomorrow and mail them?"

"Here you are!" gently barked the postmaster dog, and he gave the rabbit gentleman a sheet of stamps, with sticky stuff on the back. Of course stamps aren't sticky until you wet them, and so, taking one stamp off the sheet he had bought, Uncle Wiggily took up a little water from the roadside spring, and spattered the water on the stamp.

"Now, it is nicely stuck on the envelope, and I shall mail Nurse Jane's letter," said the bunny. "Yes, the stamp is nicely stuck," and pressing it down to make sure of this, Uncle Wiggily put the letter, with the stamp on, in the postoffice.

"Ho! Ho!" suddenly laughed a voice behind him. "The stamp is stuck and so are you stuck, Uncle Wiggily!"

"Stuck! What do you mean?" asked the bunny turning quickly around "How am I stuck?"

"You are stuck because you can't get away from here until I nibble your ears!" growled the voice, and there stood the Skillery Scallery Alligator with humps on his tail. "Yes, you are stuck!" he chuckled. "You are stuck worse than a stamp."

Uncle Wiggily didn't quite know what to do, but the postmaster dog barked:

"If stamps are stuck you are going to be stuck, too, Mr. 'Gator! You are going to be stuck with sticky stamps badly stuck!"

With that the postmaster dog jumped through the little window, and wetting some sheets of sticky stamps he stuck them over the eyes of the Alligator. He would have stuck the stamps over the 'Gator's mouth, but it was open too wide—like a barn door.

But when Uncle Wiggily helped the postmaster dog stick stamps over the 'Gator's eyes, the bad chap couldn't see to nibble any ears at all. He couldn't even see where he was going, that 'Gator couldn't, and he bumped into the door post and cracked his nose, and serve him right, I say!

"Oh, Wurra! Wurra! Wurra! howled the Gator. "I'll be good—I won't nibble Uncle Wiggily. Only take the stamps off my eyes so I can see to waddle home!" So, after Uncle Wiggily had gone, the postmaster took the sticky stamps from the 'Gator's eyes, and the bad chap went home. And I'm glad of it; aren't you?

So once more the bunny gentleman didn't get nibbled.

And if the mosquito doesn't bore holes in the molasses cookies to make wheels for his sidewalk scooter, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the tomatoes.

Much interest in the European war has been created in Miss Darsie's medieval and modern history class at the Glendale Union High school by the acquisition of a war map. The day's progress along the battle front of the various armies is marked with pins.

The sophomore class appeared at the high school this week with stunning caps and sweaters. Black and gold are their colors.

RESUME FIGHT IN AMERICAN LOOP

Senators Meet Boston, Yanks Open Against Athletics As Race Narrows

By H. C. HAMILTON
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The American league race, with the Senators leading by a margin of two games, today drew the attention of all fandom. After a lay-off of one day, during which the National league battle was drawn closer to a decision, through the New York victory over Pittsburgh, the Senators were to open today against the Boston Red Sox, and the Yankees, second place club, were to engage the Athletics in Philadelphia.

Both teams, fighting for the American league championship, were to meet clubs rated as "easy" in baseball circles, but the Athletics ever have been trouble-makers, and are strong enough to give any club a battle.

In Boston the Senators admitted they are meeting a club which figures to give them less trouble than do the Athletics with New York.

Washington, leading by two games, can get no worse than a tie now if they win two of their remaining four games and the Yankees are victorious in four straight. The Yankees can win their fourth straight pennant by winning four straight if Washington loses three out of four.

The Giants and Dodgers are left alone at the top of the heap in the National league. Two more victories are necessary for the Giants to cinch their pennant, provided Brooklyn wins its two remaining games.

SPORT WISDOM

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Knute Rockne of Notre Dame who has been teaching in several of the football coaching kindergartens this summer, says the Notre Dame team this year will average only 165 pounds with a line of 171 pounds.

This is cutting it pretty fine even for that past master of the art in teaching every man to make the most of every pound at the right moment. It reminds the writer of the time when Charles Courtney, having had success with a lighter crew became enamoured of the trimness of action displayed and next season sent to Poughkeepsie a still lighter one—and was beaten. Thereafter Courtney never repeated the experiment but always had a nucleus of power in the waist of his shell.

To tell the truth, Brown, Rockne's guard of last year, was enough to deceive anybody with the great power he had in his compact frame. But Browns are the exception and in a succession of gruelling struggles the football line needs some poundage.

Last year when Rockne came to his Nebraska game his men were pretty well played out, and one fancies that after they have gone through the Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech and Wisconsin games this season, even Rockne would like a few more stalwarts in his line to face the Nebraska Huskies.

But Rockne has a wonderful backfield in Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden, a quartette that any coach might covet.

Jock Sutherland and Williamson, his righthand man, have profited much by the work at Camp Hamilton with some 40 Pittsburgh gridiron candidates. Sutherland carried over an end in Gwosden, a center trio in Johnson, the snap back, and Chase and Wisinger, guards, and a full back in Gustafson, as a nucleus about which to build up a team. Sangartner very likely will replace one of these guards, as only his injuries have kept him out formerly. Captain Frank is available either at end or in the middle of the line, but Sutherland has three other end prospects besides Gwosden and Frank, so the captain likely will be nearer the middle of the line. These ends are Sauer, McMillan and Kifer. In the backfield, to supplement Gustafson, Sutherland has Brown, a good kicker with plenty of speed, Hart and Amann.

Grove City may give Pitt a stiff argument as they are coached by Bowser, the old Pitt center, and know all the Pitt plays as they demonstrated last year when they gave Glenn Warner's team a bad scare.

Lincoln Players Hand Lightweights Defeat

The Glendale lightweights suffered defeat at the hands of the Lincoln High school 130-pound team yesterday on Broadway field, 13 to 5. The young Rail Splitters made both their touchdowns when the breaks of the game went against the locals. Near the start of the game the visitors broke through the line and before anyone knew what had happened a touchdown had been scored. In the second half the Lincoln center picked up a drop kick by Lovell which had been blocked and made an 80-yard dash to the goal line. Porter, Glendale quarterback, made the only touchdown for the locals.

DYNAMITERS AND U. S. C. TO BATTLE

Local Squad Ready for Big Battle Against Young Trojan Players

ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Glendale Dynamiters are to hook up with the University of Southern California freshmen tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock in the Los Angeles coliseum in what promises to be the toughest battle of their schedule. The Glendale boys have been working out under the supervision of three coaches this fall and are primed for the young Trojans.

The Trojan Frosh have a heavier team than that which brought the coast freshmen championship to Troy last year. In the backfield are some of the most famous high school stars of last season. Howard "Breezy" Elliot, Glendale's star fullback who made the all-state eleven last year; Morley Drury, Long Beach; Vic Orsatti, Manual Arts; O'Malley, Venice; Don Williams, Santa Ana; George Dyer, Lincoln, and "Tony" Golindo, San Diego, compose the peagreener's backfield.

The Trojan line is nothing less than a 1400-pound stone wall. Baldridge of Franklin, 237 pounds; the two Wescott brothers from Kansas, 220 and 190 pounds; Sahlberg, 210 pounds; Handy, Cedar Rapids; Jones, Tulsa; Crow, Pasadena; Doran, Long Beach; Smith, Lincoln; Hensdayle, San Pedro, and Mulcahy, Compton, all around the 200-pound mark, are out for the peagreen line, and will give their backfield something to work behind.

Ready for Fray

The Dynamiters are in fine shape for the game and are out to give the Trojans some real opposition. Coach Hayhurst has picked out the first eleven and the line will probably start the game as follows: Elsworth De Parqc, right end; Clayton "Droopy" Philips, right tackle; Dixon Fannon, right guard; Cecil Zuan, center; Marion Morrison, left guard; Lewis Dotson, left tackle, and Leslie Lavelle, left end.

With "Fighting Dick" Ryan, captain and star halfback of the locals, recovering from two torn ligaments, it is doubtful whether he will play in a great part of the game. Coach Hayhurst wants to be sure of Ryan in the backfield this year and is taking no chances. Without Ryan in the lineup, Hayhurst will probably use the following backfield: "Bud" Elliot, quarter; Elmer Muff, left half; Harry Fish, right half, and Carl Denney, fullback.

Second Team Trains

Hayhurst has a second team thoroughly organized which he will hold in reserve and may give a try-out. The second string outfit is composed of Ward, Habbick, Drury, Bradbury, Johnston, Lundia and Hackett in the line, with Dante La Franchi, captain of last year's lightweights, as quarterback, Booker as one half and John Parker as fullback. The other halfback has not yet been selected.

The game which starts at 1:30, sharp, will have to be over by 2:45, when the main feature, the U. S. C.-Cal. Tech. game, starts. A big crowd of Glendale students and fans are expected to be on hand to cheer the Dynamiters.

Huskies Loom Strong Among Coast Elevens

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—String with Washington!

For it looks as though the Huskies will win the Pacific coast football title this season.

With a powerful machine and a weak schedule, the purple and gold should triumph on the gridiron this fall.

Playing only California, Oregon, Oregon Aggies and Washington State among the powerful teams of the coast, the Huskies are in a position to finish the season with a clean slate.

California will give the northerners a hot contest, but even an Andy Smith can't produce a wonder team from green material.

Bagshaw, Husky coach, is out to win this season, too.

With a more powerful outfit than the Bears last year, Bagshaw saw his giants go down to defeat before the brilliant, heady game of the Californians.

This year, set for Coach Smith's bag of tricks in the hands of a team of inexperienced youngsters, "Baggy" is in line to reap revenge.

California plays the Washington squad a week after the University of Southern California-Bears clash. This game will sorely try the Bruins and will probably send them against the Huskies with a crippled lineup.

At the same time, California has a stiff, hard schedule which points them for their tough game with Washington. The Bears, should they escape injuries in the preceding contests, will be in fighting shape to battle Washington.

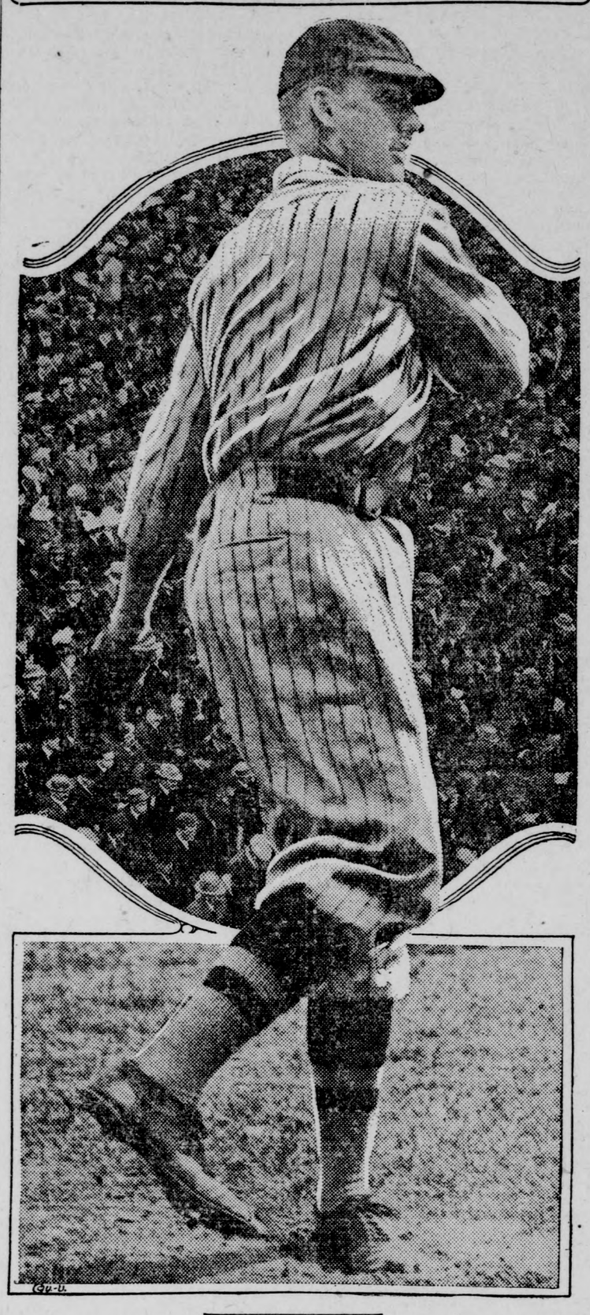
This year, Stanford presents one of the most powerful teams to ever don the moleskins on the coast.

A host of veterans are back for punishment and with "Dad" Warner, formerly Pittsburgh mentor, behind them, the Cardinals are in better position than for years to triumph over both U. S. C. and California.

Odds fall with the Trojans, however, who enter the season with a band of giants, experienced and well coached.

Idol Of Baseball Fans

WALTER JOHNSON, premier pitcher of the Washington team of the American league, is nearing his one goal—a chance to pitch in a world's series. For eighteen years he has hurled for Washington, a team which has failed to win a pennant.



America's "grand old man of the baseball diamond" may realize an ambition he has had for years gone by if the Washington team of the American league is successful in its stand of the next five days, for it will give one of the greatest pitchers the national game has ever seen a chance in the world's series—a chance that will come after eighteen years of service as a flinger in big company.

Walter Johnson, idol of thousands of followers of the national pastime, is responsible to a great degree for the sudden whirlwind play started by the Washington team this season. He has toiled regularly every week, despite his advanced age for a ball player, and his string of victories is nearing the twenty mark at the present time. Johnson, formerly Idaho star from the small leagues of Idaho, "went up" eighteen years ago to the Washington team in the American league, and there he has remained, pitching steady ball at all times, working year in and year out with a last-place club, but giving his best to his manager. With the start made a month ago by the Senators, when they challenged the Yankees for the lead and then overtook them, fans from every corner of the states began pulling for the capitol city team to win—for no other reason than to see Walter Johnson get a chance in the world's series.

Retains Popularity

Johnson has attained a curious hold on the city of Washington. However poor the club has been in past years, he has kept the team on the map with his well-earned victories. Fans there have seen him as a young stripling, and watched him toil year in and year out, and now nearing the finish of most ball players' time.

Washington and New York have four more games to play. The Senators are leading by two games and a half, and the only way they will be crowded out of first place is for New York to win all four games and themselves lose three, which looks impractical at the present stage.

Pacific Electric Pin Artists Are Victorious

The Pacific Electric bowling team scored a decisive victory last night over the Red Feathers, at the Recreation alleys, when the trolley men took three games from the former City league leaders. The Red Feathers put in Pabst in the third game when Horsley withdrew, in an effort to stop the advance. Neise of the winners rolled high score with 277 in the opening game.

The Wolves won over the Rats in the three-men game, the Rats taking the third game after the Wolves had annexed two. Neise again carried off the high score honors, getting 242 in the second game.

Bobby Jones, Von Elm Leading In Tourney

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 26.—Finalists in the national amateur golf championship were virtually determined beyond the peradventure of chance this morning, when Bobby Jones led Francis Ouimet 8 up and George von Elm topped Max Marston, defending champion, by 6 up at the end of 18 holes play in the semi-final round. Ouimet and Marston were outplayed completely, the former winning only one hole from Jones during the morning round. Von Elm got the jump on Marston after making the turn for home one up. He shot the final nine in 35 against the champion's 41, their medal scores being 76 and 84, respectively.

Mandell to Battle With Oakland Flash

Sammy Mandell, flashy four-round boxer who hails from Illinois, will attempt to stretch his ring victories in California to three tonight, when he meets Oakland Frankie Burns in the headliner at the Hollywood stadium. Mandell recently came to California and in his first appearance outpointed Dick Hoppe in a whirlwind battle at Hollywood. He later beat Billy Wallace of Oakland, and now plans to defeat another Oakland boy. Because of the fact that he is meeting Johnny Adams next week Mandell wants to keep his record as clean as possible. He lost a close decision to Adams some time ago. Four other bouts are included on the weekly card.

THIRTEEN-INNING GAME TO SERAPHS

Beavers Are Stepping Stone For Angels to Fourth Place In League

By THREE STRIKES
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Continuing their winning streak on the home field, the Angels fought thirteen innings for a 3-to-2 victory over the Portland Beavers yesterday, making it three in a row in the present series. Marty Krug and his ambitious Angels now sit daintily in fourth place, with .500 per cent.

For the full distance Hugh Bedient, formerly with the Boston Red Sox, toiled on the mound for the Beavers, holding the home crew to three measly bingles for eight innings, but was touched for a double and a single in the ninth, which netted one score and forced the game into extra innings. However, the same Bedient tossed the contest away in the thirteenth on two wild pitches, which allowed McAuley to get across the rubber from second and win the game.

Doc Crandall started for the Seraphs and hurled neat ball during his eight frames, but was lifted for a pinch hitter, allowing Nick Dumovich to pitch the other five frames. Although Nick was in several tight places, he pulled through in fine shape, and allowed the Beavers no hits in his five innings.

Salt Lake put one over on the Tigers yesterday, 10 to 5. Ed Bryan allowed the Bees a five-run rally in the fifth. Singleton hurled for Salt Lake.

San Francisco won from Seattle yesterday, their first victory of the series, 7 to 3. Three errors were pulled by the Indians, while the Seals drove across three tallies in the eighth.

Scoring six runs in the last two frames, Oakland defeated Sacramento, 9 to 3. Kunz twirled for the Oaks, while Vinci worked for the Senators.

GRIDIRON JOTTINGS

BERKELEY — Walter Rau, guard, will not be in the lineup tomorrow. Lowell Mell will replace Thatcher at end and Frank Cooper will replace Lewis at guard. Rau, Thatcher and Lewis are all on California's hospital list.

STANFORD—Uncle Sam's navy will furnish the Cardinals with workouts tomorrow meeting teams from both the U. S. S. Nevada and the U. S. S. Tennessee. Card freshmen will meet Sacramento junior college.

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Coach Schissler's two "first" Aggie elevens were pitted against each other for the first public scrimmage of the season yesterday. Today nine men are suffering from pulled ligaments and charley horses.

EUGENE — Coach Maddock's early season prayer, "Oh, for a quarterback" seems to have been answered by the wirey Lou Anderson whose flashy work has insured him of a permanent berth.

SEATTLE — University of Washington will inaugurate the 1924 football season with two games tomorrow afternoon, both in the nature of practice tilts. Their opponents are the U. S. S. Maryland eleven and the West Seattle Athletic club.

MOSCOW — With the greatest array of substitutes in the history of the institution, Coach Mathews is drilling more than sixty players for the scheduled opening game with Gonzaga, at Spokane, October 4.

LOS ANGELES—Coach "Fox" Stanton of California Tech is expected to resort entirely to open plays here tomorrow when his men clash with the University of Southern California in the season's opener.

Wrestlers Each Gain Fall In Great Match

Joe "Toots" Mondt and Ed "Strangler" Lewis each gained a fall in one of the greatest wrestling matches ever seen in Los Angeles at the Philharmonic auditorium last night. A jammed house watched the two heavyweights grapple for an hour and ten minutes before either pinned the other to the mat. Lewis gained the first fall, with a flying mare and headlock. After that the world's champion went on the defensive using care in getting into tight places. Mondt, by some clever work, tricked the champ into a jackknife scissors on the arm after thirty-nine minutes of grappling. The huge crowd, which taxed the capacity of the auditorium, cheered throughout the match and many pronounced it the best exhibition Southern California had ever seen.

Cubs Meet Sox on Local Field Sunday

With the Catalina Cubs playing their first game away from home this season Sunday on the Glendale diamond against the local White Sox, a record crowd is expected to turn out to witness the fray, which promises to furnish real thrills for baseball fiends. Owing to the fact that Archie Hawkins, formerly of U. S. C., will be in the Catalina line-up a crowd of Trojan students will probably be present to watch their former pride perform. Hawkins, who is a brother of Johnny Hawkins, Trojan football captain, is playing a high-class brand of ball with the island team lately. Although the White Sox have lost their last three starts Manager Frank Kerwin expects to have the team working in a better order Sunday and to take the measure of the island outfit.

Antares, the largest star yet measured, has a diameter of 400,000,000 miles.

Let Kellogg's Bran free your children from that dangerous disease—constipation

Children are subject to constipation. In the excitement of play, they neglect themselves and foster this dread disease. More than forty other diseases can be traced to constipation. Don't delay. Begin at once to cleanse their systems of the dangerous poisons.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring results if eaten regularly, or your grocer will return your money. It is guaranteed because it is ALL bran! Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors everywhere—they know from experience that it brings results.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. They will like its wonderful, nut-like flavor—so different from common brans which are most unpalatable.

As a cereal, with milk or cream, they will enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in delicious muffins, bread, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

But start them eating Kellogg's Bran to-day. Start every member of your family eating it. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Ask for it at your restaurant. It is sold by all grocers.

street, from east to west city limits, and not to any one section.

Letter On File

The letter was signed by J. M. Boland, president of the association, and by all the members of the board of directors. The council voted to file the letter.

"This letter constitutes a good statement of facts and conditions as they exist on Colorado boulevard today," commented Councilman S. A. Davis.

"I want to say that there are a lot of good, brainy people on Colorado boulevard and they are showing their excellent judgment. I believe that they will secure the best of results," concluded the councilman.

Mattison B. Jones to Reach City on Monday

A telegraphic message was received this morning by Mrs. W. E. Evans stating that Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and daughter, Miss Winifred, who returned recently from European travels, and Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. M. Ewell Smith, who met them in New York, will arrive in Glendale at 7:35 o'clock Monday morning. Their Glendale relatives are anticipating giving them a hearty welcome home and their many friends will be happy to greet them.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

A meeting of the bond parade committee, of which G. L. Russell is chairman, will be held tonight at the Citizens' Bond committee headquarters. Plans for the parade on Monday will be made and reports from precinct leaders heard.

Hearings on Many Questions Postponed

Owing to pressure of business before the City Council at yesterday's session, practically all hearings were put forward. The continued hearing on appeals from the assessment for the business district alley between the Harvard High school and Brand boulevard was set for next Tuesday morning, September 30. The following hearings were continued until Thursday morning, October 2:

Hearing on assessment for the improvement of Monterey road, continued hearing on establishment of a commercial district at Broadway and Wilson avenue, hearings on establishment of commercial districts on Western avenue and Lexington drive and a hearing on the petition to abandon sidewalk proceedings on Colorado boulevard. The following hearings were set for October 16:

Continued hearing on the improvement of Cypress street, continued hearing on assessment for the opening and widening of Chestnut street and a hearing on the petition for establishment of a commercial district at Colorado boulevard and Adams street.

Recent archaeological finds at Cromer, England, tend to disprove the view that there was no human habitation until after the glacial period.

PROPOSITION No. 8.—A Large City-Wide Park of Thirty-Five Acres.

This proposition will give authority to the Park Commission to purchase the beautiful tract of land, in a canyon filled with Live Oak trees, in what is known as the Rossmoyne Tract. Here is a place for an open-air amphitheatre at little expense, picnic grounds, and other features found in a big park, which can be developed similar to Brookside.

PROPOSITION No. 9.—A Neighborhood Park for the South Side.

This will provide $35,000.00 to go toward the purchase of a neighborhood park site on the South Side. As our city grows we must have these neighborhood beauty spots. While Glendale is the fastest growing city in America, it is near the bottom of the list in park area.
